“ We met Cedric during freshman year at FAMU as engineering students. Like most FAMU engineering students at that time, lots of time was spent in the Technology building working on engineering labs and with close knit study groups. It was always with sense of pride and encouraging to see Cedric, a fellow alumni and aerospace professional thriving in his career at NASA and in his personal life. He will be missed by all who knew him.

“ I worked with Cedric at Alstom and really enjoyed talking with him. He loved talking about his son playing ball at FIT, he always talked about him with such pride. He was a kind hearted man with a warm spirit, and I really enjoyed all our talks. Was so proud of his weight loss and fitness journey. So sad to hear of his passing.

“ I am sadden by the passing of a member of our class family. Cedric always had that simple smile and big grind on his face. He was always a gentleman, but most of all, I loved the relationship, love and care he had for Jackie while we were in school and until his passing. I heard from Jackie at the class reunion of the wonderful relationship he had with their son. My prayers are with the family and my the Lord help you through your time of sorrow.

“ Cedric and I began our engineering careers in the same group at almost the same time (Cedric in March or April 1985, me in November 1984). Being the new Black male college graduates, becoming friends was very easy. We watched out for each other, and made sure we studied and learned as much as we could about the Space Shuttle Orbiter EPD&C and D&C subsystems. We were determined that no one would honestly say that we received our jobs based solely upon our ethnicity. I believe we proved our worth beyond all shadows of doubt.

We both enjoyed sports, travel, smooth jazz, and jazz fusion music (Cedric's favorite was Marcus Miller). Having these interests in common made it very easy to be friends. I will miss my friend.

My wife and I extend our deepest heartfelt condolences to Jackie, Jacquiel, and the extended Perry family. May God's strength and be peace be with you always.

Hi Jackie, this is Sharon James-Harvey. Greg just called me today 8-24-21. I was soooo surprised by you losing Cedric so suddenly. I remember us growing up in Gainesville and when you guys 1st met. You guys were inseparable. I reached out to Cedric on FACEBOOK and asked him to let you know I was still thinking of you guys. What a great man. He will be missed. He can never be replaced in your heart and mind. Reach out. I am still working for Department of Corrections. Miss you and will pray for you and your son. Sharon
